Please note that this will include sending your data outside of the UK, including to the US. Where we are required to carry out an international transfer of your data, we will ensure that this is done in compliance with all applicable data protection laws. Please note that PRI will provide Wharton with each Registrant's full name, country of residence, and job title/company so that Wharton can screen each Registrant against any "restricted party" list maintained and published by any arm or department of the US government (including the Department of Commerce, Department of State, and Department of Treasury). Wharton and/or PRI may prohibit Registrant from participating in the Course where they fail this screening process or where the Registrant is reasonably believed to be subject to a relevant geographic or thematic sanction.
